

James and Rachel Lowrie Award

Application Deadline: Friday, March 7, 2008

The James and Rachel Lowrie Award is given in recognition of a junior or senior whose oral and written performance in English courses at Iowa State University demonstrates outstanding growth, perception, and capability in the study of literature.

CANDIDATES WILL BE NOMINATED BY A FACULTY MEMBER and selected by a committee of staff and students. Interested applicants may ask faculty members to nominate them or faculty members may inform students of their willingness to serve as nominators.

Completed applications (including this page and a form cover sheet) should be returned to an English undergraduate advisor, or taken to 239 Ross.
